

To people who magically appeared with power hoses and shovels and brooms. To children bringing cookies and water and soup. To friends with hugs and strangers with warm wishes and strong arms. To fireman and sanitation crews and businesses donating advice, expertise and resources. To the muscle-saving arrival of dumpsters and back-hoes. To customers who want us back in business and strangers who just want to help. To everyone who in their own way cares and reminds us why we are proud and happy to be part of what makes San Anselmo special. To all of you with generous hearts, caring faces and energetic spirits, we offer our profound and heartfelt gratitude. We hope YOU know just how unique and appreciated you are. Thank you all. We love our town.
